CALL FOR PAPERS

Gandhi Study Circle, Ram Lal Anand College is organising a Two-Day International Conference on Gandhi and Global Peace. This conference will be conducted on Google Meet platform on 18-19 February, 2022. There will be four sessions of three hours each distributed among two days.

Ram Lal Anand College is an affiliate college of University of Delhi. Since 1964, Ram Lal Anand College has been imparting education at undergraduate and postgraduate level in Science, Humanities and Commerce streams. The college focuses upon the holistic development of the students by instilling human values and life ethics. Gandhi Study Circle of the college is a very active society working towards the understanding of Gandhian principles and instilling these values among students. The main aim and objective of the circle is to promote Gandhian values and nation building projects. In the last few years this society has brought laurels to the college and has not left any stone unturned in spreading the message of Gandhiji among students and faculty of the college. This circle was felicitated by the Vice-chancellor of the University of Delhi for its outstanding work in this field.

Gandhi's unfinished task is the biggest challenge before us. He had immense faith in his mission and held infinite faith in the individual's capacity to change. Though it is difficult to imitate Gandhi, even remotely, in his courage, clarity of thought, spirit and moral values, we have to come forward and carry forward his mission for a better and more peaceful world.

The theme of this conference explores the concept of non-violence and importance of peace in Gandhian political discourse. While the non-violence and peace are corollary of each other, they still require deeper investigation to understand the moral and political implication of Gandhian politics of 'ahimsa' in a globalized world.

Taking into consideration the role of Gandhian philosophy related to Global Peace in present scenario with a boost from Government of India, Gandhi Study Circle of Ram Lal Anand College, University of Delhi is organising a Two Day International Conference on Gandhi and Global Peace (गाँधी एवं विश्वशांति) on Google Meet platform on 18-19 February, 2022.
