3. Venue/online: Seminar Room
4. Nature of event: Intra-college
5. Invited speakers, their affiliation and brief profile of each speaker: Dr. Mansi Bajaj, Lecturer of Hindi at the MacMillan Center, Yale University. Dr. Bajaj has made significant contributions as a language educator, focusing on socio-cultural understanding, diverse language inputs, and creating inclusive classroom environments. Her work, especially in heritage language pedagogy and Open Educational Resources (OER) fosters Diversity, Equity, Inclusivity, and Belonging (DEIB) in language teaching. She is a recipient of the 2024 MAFLT LCTL Innovation Award, honored for her innovative use of technology in teaching Less Commonly Taught Languages (LCTLs). Her experience includes teaching at the University of Texas, Austin, and participating in various panels and workshops on online instruction and inclusivity. With a Ph.D. in Linguistics from the University of Delhi, Dr. Bajaj’s research interests include heritage language pedagogy, gender and sexuality studies, and project-based language learning.
6. Brief summary of the event: Students of departments alongside various of our esteemed faculty members were present for the event. The entire event was centered around educating the audience about the usage of AI in generation where AI based presences are constantly growing and developing. President Komya Bharti and Nishka Rathi, two members of our very own departmental society, led the event and welcomed Dr. Mansi Bajaj with warmth and open arms. Dr. Mansi Bajaj then started the talk about AI and its uses in our day-to-day life as students with the assistance of a presentation and helped to keep the event engaging with a question and answers session that the participating students took a great interest in. Dr. Mansi Bajaj kept the audience engaged throughout with on-spot interactive activities ensuring the practicality of AI usage and effectiveness of the talk. In order to formally thank Dr. Mansi Bajaj for her time, teachers including Ms. Minaxi Brahma and Dr. Urvashi

Kuhad gave her a vote of thanks. President Komya Bharti then took the stage to conclude this captivating event by thanking the Principal, the Professors and the students for their time, undying support and enthusiasm to support our event, thereby bringing it to an official end. Students were then asked to fill the feedback forms and coupons were distributed according to the attendees.

3. Venue/online: Amphitheatre (first floor)
4. Nature of event: Intra-college
5. Invited speakers, their affiliation and brief profile of each speaker: Mr. Kumar Sushant. Growing up in a small town like Birpur with limited opportunities, pursuing studies was the natural path for him. Hailing from Bihar, the perception that civil services represented the best career option further fueled his desire to become a civil servant. However, as time passed and he gained access to more opportunities, his decision to choose civil services was driven by the nature of the work itself. The prospect of contributing to a wide range of fields, from health and education to foreign policy, was exciting. This broad scope of potential roles ultimately became the decisive factor in his decision.

6. Brief summary of the event: The event focused on educating students about the UPSC competitive examinations and what a career in civil services looks like. Led by Misquat Fatima and Sanvi, members of the departmental society, the event welcomed Mr. Kumar Sushant, an IPS officer, as the guest speaker. He shared his journey of clearing the UPSC exam, offering valuable insights into the dedication required for success in the field. His honest and engaging talk emphasized the emotional and physical challenges of the profession. Following his speech, students participated in a Q&A session where Mr. Sushant answered their queries, motivating them to pursue their ambitions with dedication. Dr. Urvashi Kuhad and Ms. Minaxi Brahma concluded the event by thanking Mr. Sushant and applauding the efforts of the Ubiquitous team. The event ended with feedback forms and coupon distributions for all attendees.

6. Brief summary of the event - Ubiquitous: The English Literary Society of Ram Lal Anand College proudly hosted INAAYAT'25, the annual literary fest, on March 6, 2025. A day dedicated to the love of literature, storytelling, and creative expression, INAAYAT brought together students and literary enthusiasts for an engaging and immersive experience. The fest featured a thought-provoking author session with Dr. Rupleena Bose, where she explored the intricate relationship between writing, memory, and identity. This was followed by an exciting Spell Bee competition, where participants put their vocabulary and spelling skills to the test in a battle of linguistic prowess. The Epistolary Exchange competition challenged students to craft imaginative letters between literary characters, fostering both creativity and critical engagement. The day concluded with the screening of The Great Gatsby, allowing attendees to experience Fitzgerald's timeless narrative on the big screen. INAAYAT'25 was a vibrant celebration of literature, offering a space for dialogue, interpretation, and artistic expression. Through insightful discussions and interactive events, it truly upheld the spirit of storytelling and literary exploration.
