About The College:

Ram Lal Anand College was founded in the year 1964 by Late Shri Ram Lal Anand, a senior advocate in the Supreme Court of India, in response to the growing social demand in the sixties for providing educational opportunities at the university level. The college was initially managed by the Ram Lal Anand College Trust. It was later taken over by the University of Delhi. Since 1973, it has been run by the University of Delhi as a University Maintained Institution.

The college is located in the picturesque surroundings against the backdrop of the Aravali ranges in the neighborhood of the South Campus of the University of Delhi and several other educational institutions. It has a vast campus, spread over ten acres of land with green lawns and elegant buildings of much sprawling architectural merit. The college has excellent infrastructure, with state of the art Laboratories, Seminar Room, Amphitheatre, Library, Playground and Cafeteria. The campus is Wi-Fi enabled. Being a multi-disciplinary, co-educational institution, it has approximately 2500 students pursuing different courses in Arts, Commerce and Science streams. Ram Lal Anand College is administered by a statutory Governing Body as per the University Ordinances and legislated by the Executive Council of the University of Delhi.

1st Chapter of a Two Day
Conference
(17th & 18th April, 2023)

About The Society:

Phule-Periyar-Ambedkar Study Circle (PPASC):

Phule-Periyar-Ambedkar Study Circle was established not just to foreground the alternative discourse, but also to concretize the role of the margins and the marginal in structuring the mainstream, notwithstanding them not constituting the same. A holistic existence of one and all, without any sectarianism and hierarchization is the purpose of this academic pursuit.

PPASC organizes lecture series, provides texts to students for ready reference apart from the college library collection, and intends to inculcate an academic ambience and the necessary confidence in Undergraduate students to metamorphose them into an informed research scholar – for the benefit of the individual, the communities concerned, and the nation at large. PPASC plans to organize a Seminar series where papers on a defined topic can be presented and then published for a larger readership and for an ensuing future.

Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC):

Once students from various backgrounds and identities enroll in the institution, EOC believes in creating a common platform where equity of treatment and equality in opportunity becomes the only practice, and an effort be made to create a microcosmic arrangement, where students find a fertile ground for utmost maximization of their talent, hard work and intellectual growth.

EOC plays an unparalleled role during the enrolment process. And thereafter EOC intends to become an anchor in neutralizing any superiority and inferiority, thereby positioning quest for learning as the only common and collective identity.

Concept Note:

In the discourse of the modern nation-state, the most fundamental question that surfaces is: whose nation? Does the discourse of the nation-state holistically encompass every section of the society – which remains hierarchized and sectarianized in multiplicitous ways? It's a fact that the socio-politico-cultural and economic sensibility of the idea of nation relates, corroborates and accommodates every citizenry and vice-versa; but the power dynamics involved in generating and manufacturing the discourse of and around nation-state needs to be problematized.

The iconography of respective stalwarts of the liberal Centrist, Leftist, and the Rightist stream of thought were always prominent. But Bahujan iconography of Phule, Shahu, Savitribai, Periyar, Ambedkar has become a part and parcel of the vocabulary of youth (specifically in universities) around and after 1990. This is despite the fact that the presence of Bahujan, not only vis-à-vis population, but also with respect to creativity and expression has always existed. One can trace it back to Ravidas, Kabir, Dadu, Tukaram etc.

The role of Bahujan thus, in the phenomenon of building a nation-state, has to be gauged, established and owned. In the modern day struggle of narrative and perception, revival and mainstreamization of one's own perception and narrative is fundamental to its socio-political manifestation.

This seminar intends to foreground vision of anti-caste intellectuals, formulating anew their own utopia, representing Enlightenment in India, strengthening values of democracy, equality, rationality and progress.

The seminar proposes to bring together researchers interested and invested in the interface between anti-caste discourse and the social vision of the anti-caste intellectuals towards not only a critical understanding of India, but also a utopic visualization of an Enlightened India - from the Bhakti radical to Ambedkar's casteless 'Prabudhdh Bharat'.

The seminar aims at moving across disciplines to facilitate discussions around the following themes:

- History of the anti-caste discourse in India
- Utopia of the anti-caste intellectuals
- Indian Knowledge Systems and the Outcastes
- Spaces and Non-Spaces of Contemporary
- Modern Liberal Universities and Caste Practices
- Caste in Cyberspace and the Future of India
- Caste and Media
- Interrogating caste-based identity politics
- Defining 'Ambedkarism', 'Periyarism' and 'Phuleism'
- Dalit aesthetics as anticasteism
- Dalit feminism as anticasteism
