Invitation

On behalf of the organizing committee, we are pleased to announce that the National Seminar on Probiotics: Ameliorating the Burden of Lifestyle Disorders (PABLD) will be held on February 1st, 2019. Jointly Organized by Ram Lal Anand College, University of Delhi, New Delhi and the Probiotic Association of India, Karnal, Haryana. This would provide an academic platform for researchers and students to present latest research findings and describe emerging technologies in the realm of Probiotics. The seminar will comprise of Invited talks by Eminent scientists in the field, Poster presentations and Innovative idea presentations by UG and PG students.

The seminar aims to bring together leading academicians and Eminent scientists, researchers and students in the field-

- To provide a forum for the exchange of ideas on Current Probiotic Research with a focus on use of probiotics and their role in maintaining health and preventing lifestyle diseases.
- To generate awareness about benefits and potential of Probiotics amongst students
- To infuse and promote research culture among Biological Science Undergraduate students in the field of probiotic development.

The seminar will be very beneficial for Undergraduate and Postgraduate Students of Microbiology/Biochemistry/Biomedical Sciences/Biotechnology or related fields and Faculty.
